Jerry Wennes is shown directing the St. Albert Separate Protestant Schools Junior Band. The group has been together for just two and one-half months.

Joint Use Agreement is proving its worth

The joint use agreement between the town and two school boards appears to be proving its worth.

This past summer it offered four soccer fields, 16 ball diamonds, nine football fields and two tracks for use by St. Albert residents.

"We have operated very successfully for over two years because the participants at every level have been blessed with positive attitude and spirit of cooperation," Vice-chairman D. B. Fraser said in his annual report.

"The efficiency of the town and school district administrators as well as volunteer supervisors of recreation programs has been so effective that the work load of the joint use committee was light over the past year."

The joint use committee is formed of members of the two school boards and town officials, co-ordinating the facilities of each into one unit for the benefit of St. Albert residents.

"People may ask what is the cost of recreation in St. Albert," Mr. Fraser said. "In 1967 it was less than two mills and I estimate that its about the same in 1968."

"This would be equivalent to a family membership in a community league in Edmonton but our program has much broader scope and better facilities for the participant. This is quite evident from the number of inquiries received from other Alberta communities about our joint use agreement."

Mayor Ray Gibbon succeeded former Mayor Richard Fowler as chairman of the committee and D. B. O'Connell is secretary.

Presenting the annual report of the recreation division, Mrs. Rene Laird, recreation co-ordinator, said:

"During the past year, the joint use agreement has become increasingly effective in serving the recreational needs of our community, in spite of the fact that these needs have increased in proportion with the increase in population.

"Areas of responsibility in the implementation of the agreement have become more clearly defined and this has led to greater understanding between those responsible for the allocation of recreation facilities, whether owned by the town or

Fund drive under way for St. Albert arena

Some people will do almost anything to get their name up in lights.

In St. Albert, you'll be glad to hear, you can actually see it happen for only $100.

Well, no, it won't really be up in lights -- but the next best thing.

You can have it printed on a shiny square and have it nailed onto a gleaming feature wall in St. Albert's new arena.

What arena, did you say? The arena, friend, that your $100 will help construct.

The St. Albert and District Interim Arena Committee opened its campaign for funds Sunday night with the plan to seek $100 donations from interested citizens.

The names of citizens donating will be engraved on a feature wall in the lobby of the arena to stand for the life of the building.

The plan is only the first phase of the drive for funds. A general meeting will be called early in the new year to bring in service clubs and more interested citizens, reorganizing the committee and establishing more fund-raising projects.

The immediate goal is in the neighborhood of $60,000, which will be required to construct the basic shell.

If a start were made immediately on construction the cost would be $125,000, of which the town would put up $75,000.

If it starts later than March 31, however, it is expected the cost will jump to about $135,000 as new union contracts go into effect on that date and therefore the labor portion of the cost will rise considerably.

Anyone wishing to contribute can contact Marcel De Champlany, Cliff Gallant, Roger Montpetit, Jake Vauguelis, Doug Millroy, Ken McRae, Garth Leask, Dr. William Cuts, Harry Padlowski or Rene Kambouff for information.

Attempts are being made to arrange financing, if possible through the local banks and credit union, for those who would like to pay in monthly installments.

Glue sniffing false alarm

When 15-year-old Ian Cooley confessed to three St. Albert RCMP officers last week that he sniffed glue a lot, everybody had a big laugh.

Moments before, however, everyone had been deadly serious.

Staff Sergeant Ken Williams had received a report of a suspected glue-sniffing party at 11 Garden Cresc. He despatched three men to the scene.

Ian answered the door, the smell of fresh glue wafting out behind him. The RCMP officers requested a tour of the premises.

They found what they were searching for in the basement -- glue.

They also found a lot of model airplanes, one of which was being worked on at that moment.

Ian, you see, happens to be a model airplane enthusiast and at a meet this fall you just about everything in sight.

This time red faces -- not red coats.

School's out this Friday

It will be "school's out" for 16 days for students in the St. Albert public and separate systems on Friday, Dec. 20.

They will not have to return to their classrooms until Jan. 6th.

Power toboggan playground opposed

The Town of St. Albert will meet with Municipal District of Sturgeon officials late in January to discuss a power toboggan playground proposed on river lots 31 and 32 in the municipality.

Gazette out Monday next week

The Gazette will be delivered on Monday next week as Christmas falls on Wednesday, its regular date of publication.

There will not be a paper the following week in order that the staff may have time off for the Christmas and New Year holidays.

Deadline for news copy will be Friday at 6 p.m. Publication will be resumed Jan. 8th.

Mrs. McRae, who at 102 is probably one of Santa's oldest fans, receives a gift while Mrs. McDonald, president of the Youville Auxiliary presents her with a corsage. Mrs. McRae, never at a loss for words, wished Santa a very Merry Christmas.

Audience responsive to budding musicians

Over 80 budding musicians gave their all last Monday evening when the St. Albert Separate Protestant School Bands presented a program of toe-tapping music to an audience of 200 appreciative listeners at the George Simpson Assembly Hall. The Bands are directed by Jerry Wennes.

The Junior Band, which is just 2-1/2 months old, presented several delightful pieces, and what the youngsters lacked in finesse, they made up for with enthusiasm.

Upon being accepted into the Band, children are given the use of an instrument for one year. If, after that time, they want to continue with their musical education, parents are encouraged to purchase an instrument. This system makes musical training available to a large number of children and does away with costly initial investment before the child's ability can be assessed.

The program featured several Christmas songs, and the Senior Band presented such favorites as 12th Street Rag, a rousing version of those Marching Saints, a very entertaining arrangement of Yellow Rose of Texas as well as several Herb Alpert favorites.

The Senior Band has some very promising musicians, Mr. Wennes said. One of his former band members, Margot Mostert has advanced to the point where she now assists Mr. Wennes with the clarinet section. Margot directed several young clarinetists in a charming piece which they studied without Mr. Wennes knowing about it.

The Bands plan to bring a spring concert next year and it will be interesting to note their progress at that time. So far, it has been nothing short of amazing.

Hamper bureau needs boost

Donations to the St. Albert Christmas Hamper Bureau are slow coming in. Mrs. Doreen Pollard of the St. Albert Kinette Club, who are again organizing the bureau this year, told the Gazette the bureau is faced with a shortage of canned foods, staples and new or next-to-new toys. Mrs. Pollard said names of some 35 needy families in St. Albert and district have been submitted to the bureau and are being checked out with the welfare department.

Without our help these people are not going to have much of a Christmas this year.

If you can spare some canned goods, coffee, tea, sugar, flour or a couple of bags of candies (some fami-

Car insurance going up

An average countrywide increase of 4% in insurance rates for private passenger cars is expected next year.

For commercial vehicles, the indicated hike is just under 1%. These are the implications of an analysis by the Insurance Bureau of Canada of the annual Green Book record of claims and premiums. The average, however, will end up with a precise 4% increase. Depending on an individual's claims record, type of car, age, how he uses the car and where he lives, he may face more than a 4% jump. Or he may even enjoy a reduction.

The preacher was describing Judgment Day: "Thunder will roar; flames will shoot from the heavens; floods, storms and earthquakes will devastate the world."

Wide-eyed, the little boy turned to his mother, "Mom," he whispered, "will I get out of school?"

Father Fitzgerald spoke on the changes in Christian Education. Since Vatican II the community spirit predominates. The vocation of Christianity is service to the Community - the attitude of "protection" is going.

The Church is humble; it no longer separates the secular from the sacred. It regards "work" as a value, and strives through dialogue and effort to enhance the dignity of the individual so that he may follow his conscience to make decisions for himself.

The discussion which followed emphasized human values and the need for positive service to the Community, with a spirit of openness and friendliness. Father Fitzgerald left his audience with the thought that religion today must be a preparation for life, rather than a preparation for the end of life.

Father Loberge used the theme, "The Christian Community, the Medium of the Message." He felt that in the past there was too much concern with the development of the school system, and the insistence of teaching religion as a separate subject.

The Christian community saw to the education of its own members in the faith - an insular approach. Today it is realized that in Christian communities people cannot live their lives alone, nor can they approach God alone. They must strive to educate the totality of human life; they must be interested with growth in relation to others. Because of the new developments in technological sciences, the Christian community must constantly evaluate and re-evaluate itself.

Father C. Levangie told the Grades 1 and 2 teachers that a study of the psychology of religious response was made in line with the thinking of Dr. Francoeur, psychologist and theologian of Montreal.

Using tapes and discussion, the group reflected upon the difference between religious response and religious training.

Father Levangie defined religious response as the totality of response of the person at any given moment as he is able to respond in that situation. Religious response involves three things:

- 1) A sensing of the presence of the Supreme Being,
- 2) Some sense of relationship with the people around,
- 3) Some sense of the responsibility of behaviour.

These must involve all of the child that can be involved at that particular moment of the child's development - for example, in dealing with the child of six, teachers must take into consideration the psychological development so that they will not over expect or under expect. In religious education the child must be led, not dragged; fed, not force fed. A chief weakness in catechists is a spirit of anxiety and inadequacy, a desire to do the whole job themselves. Father Levangie suggested that "we should do what we can and, give the Holy Spirit elbow room. We still try to do too much."

He said nothing is so natural as prayer for the child. Because the child is sensitive to his own needs, his form of prayer will be strongly of petition. This is normal and good because the prayer of petition is an act of love in that it implies and recognizes God's supreme dominion over us.

Sister Jackson reminded her audience of Grades 3

St. Arnaud cattle bought by Russians

A four-man delegation of Russian cattle buyers purchased 14 head of registered Hereford females from the Dunrobin Hereford Ranch at Vimy, owned and operated by P. St. Arnaud.

They also purchased four females from John Harry at Nestow and one bull from Andrew Donald of Clyde.

The Russians spent two months in Canada and bought 1,200 head of western cattle.

Head of the delegation, all of them veterinary doctors, was Prof. Nicolai Bur-lacov of Moscow. He was accompanied by Dr. Leonid Karabonov, Dr. Domitro Prochenko, and Dr. Vladimir Nichin, all experts in the cattle industry.

Along with them was Tom Hughes of High River, official selector and export representatives of the Alberta Hereford Association, Mike Sorotuck, official interpreter.

The Russians expressed great satisfaction with the quality of cattle offered and took a number of pictures of themselves with the cattle. The cattle are to be used to improve the quality of their own breeds.

They have had very good success with Canadian cattle, said Mr. Hughes, this being the reason they returned for another and bigger shipment. The Russians have 10 million head of beef cattle and want to extend this to 60 million.

These cattle were loaded in Calgary in the early part of November on to Montreal by rail and then on the boat for a 17-day ride. Then on into Russia for maybe another two or three thousand miles.

Richard Vallee of the St. Albert Boxing Club was a title winner in his first official fight Friday night. Richard pounded out a unanimous decision over James Barberry of Hinton in the 85-pound division. For his efforts he was awarded a trophy as top hometown boxer on the action card.

Allan Eschuk of St. Albert, fighting in the 70-pound division, was outpointed by Guy Jolley of Hinton.

Guy Jolley, who weighs 145 pounds, gave away 100 pounds to Eugene Payton of Hinton and the advantage was just too much. Payton, of St. Albert, was forced to retire in the first round.

St. Albert

In the fall of 1967 a young St. Albert boy, Gary Larsen by name, wandered into the St. Albert Boxing Club and donned a pair of gloves. He was a slight boy, but wiry and game. The game-ness was necessary because throughout the long winter that followed he was to take a goodly share of the lumps that are so much a part of boxing.

He stepped into the ring three times officially over the season, coming out on the losing end each time. Not exactly an impressive beginning.

But what a difference a year can make.

Gary, now 14, stepped into the ring for the third time of the young season on Saturday night at the Strathcona Legion Hall and as in the previous two matches, he won handily.

This one, however, was something special.

The victory came over Miles Payton, provincial 80 pound junior champion from the South Side Legion Boxing Club.

Brian Jolley, St. Albert Boxing Club instructor, said Monday that Gary would challenge Payton on the St. Albert Club's next card, scheduled for the Community League Hall on Jan. 11. In Gary's previous two fights, in the 75-pound division, he scored a unanimous decision over John Tryon of Breton and then stopped Jim Moulton of the South Side in the second round on a referee's decision.

Jim Kelly from the St. Albert Club, Alberta 100-pound junior champion, was to have fought on the same card Saturday but his opponent, Rick Farmer of Red Deer, was sick.

Sports

St. Albert teams tie for hoop lead

St. Albert and Paul Kane Schools remained deadlocked with Barrhead for top spot in the boys' section of the northern division of the North Central Zone Basketball League after weekend action.

St. Albert High, however, has a game in hand, being undefeated in two games. Paul Kane and Barrhead have 2-1 records.

In the girls' section, Westlock is the only undefeated team with a 3-0 record. St. Albert High is 1-1 and Paul Kane has yet to win a game in three starts.

In the Southern Division, Ardrossan, Concordia and Stony Plain are deadlocked for first place in the boys' section, each with two wins and a loss. In the girls' section, Fort Saskatchewan is all alone, undefeated in three games.

St. Albert boys knocked over Athabasca 39-27 in Athabasca on the weekend. St. Albert girls, however, suffered their first defeat, losing 30-18.

Paul Kane boys handed Westlock their third straight loss, 47-42, after the Westlock girls had dumped Paul Kane 36-28.

Out to the west, it was Stony Plain all the way as they defeated Concordia 56-35 in the boys' match and 35-19 in the girls' action.

Barrhead also pulled off a double win, the boys defeating their Ardrossan visitors 51-31 and the girls winning 34-18.

Fort Saskatchewan girls, who last week rolled up 69 points in defeating Concordia, managed only 24 against Salisbury but it was enough for a 24-20 win. Salisbury reversed the decision in the boys' game, defeating the Fort 44-32.

In addition to the North Central League, several smaller leagues were active. The Lac Ste. Anne League is made up of teams from Whitecourt, Grimsey, Mayerthorpe and Sancho. The Sturgeon League involves teams from Redwater, Bon Accord, Legal, Morinville and St. Mary's from Westlock. An Athabasca County League is comprised of Boyle, Grassland and Edwin Parr from Athabasca.

All teams are working toward gaining a position in the zone finals, which have been set for March 31 at both the "B" and "C" levels.

Teen centre braces for do-or-die effort

The management committee of The Sanctum Teen Centre is preparing for what could be a do-or-die stand.

Facing about $650 in bills that are due to arrive around the end of this month, the committee has scheduled a double-bandstand dance for the Community League Hall

"If this doesn't go over, we may have to call it quits," Dianne Downes said Monday night. "It's no use trying to keep something going if no one is interested."

The committee has lined up The Umbrella and a new group, The Sauce, in an all-out attempt to lure St. Albert teens out of apathetic hiding.

Little interest has been shown in The Sanctum, so little, in fact, that its total membership is less than 30.

And of that number, only the 12 members of the management committee are what you could call active.

"Kids don't want to be members of something that isn't functional," said David Cunningham. "Until we are, they won't want to join."

Actually, the teen centre has never been officially opened. This, however, will be rectified Sunday, Dec. 22, when the doors will be thrown open to the general public from 1 to 5 p.m.

Everyone is invited to attend the opening and see what the teen centre has to offer. A snack bar will be in operation during the afternoon and memberships will be on sale.

Actually, the committee displays a note of optimism even in the face of one of the

Letter to the editor

We would like to take this opportunity of thanking all the Browns, Guide and Ranger mothers whose co-operation in the annual tea and bazaar was tremendous. Due to their generosity and patronage and the attendance of the many interested St. Albert citizens, this event was an overwhelming success.

Many items for camping were donated but many more are still required. Anyone with suitable camping equipment may phone Mrs. Hayes at 599-3258 for further information.

Various articles, such as tablecloths and pans were left at the Community Hall and may be obtained at Mrs. Russell's, 599-8274.

We are looking forward to the 1969 Browns, Guide and Ranger Tea and the continued support of all those interested in the Guide movement.

Card of Thanks

I have always said that no matter where we lived, we have had the best friends and neighbors in the world. This was proven true again during our recent bereavement when we lost our most dearly beloved son and brother, Joseph Lawrence.

Could he but know of the countless gifts, acts of kindness, and the time spent by so many many people on our behalf, he would say thank you with us for the gift of love to his very sad mom, brothers and sisters.

Our thanks for the many floral tributes and messages of sympathy, to the Reverend L. J. Musto, pallbearers, and Andrews McLaughlin Funeral Directors for their kind assistance.

The Boudreau Family, St. Albert.

Public reaction to the programs has been extremely favorable and it is felt that more residents are becoming aware of the existence of the agreement and the tremendous advantages gained from it.

to 8 teachers that children are different now than they were 20 years ago. She said teachers must be willing to acknowledge they have a problem, and only through discussion can they advance.

At the turn of the Century the emphasis was on "how" and religious teaching was strictly a study of definition and was not meaningful.

In 1937, affected by the book of a German Priest, Father Youngman, "The Good News Yesterday and Today," teachers found they were not teaching the method of Joy, and that they must go back to the Scriptures. The trend then went to what they should teach.

Today, the trend is to what they are teaching. There should be a personal involvement, while we respect the dignity of the human person.

People can continue in the old way and still be pleasing to God, but if they want to go along with the children they must find out their way of looking at things.

Today, religious teaching is by the inductive method - starting from an experience situation, then proceeding to the rules which are to be followed. It is never an imposed religion.

Facts are memorized

AFTER they have been examined, Christian principles should be involved in situations which occur in the classroom.

Today, dialogue and discussion are an important part of religious teaching. Through them teachers get new insights they can't obtain in any other way. When working with the children, give them a problem and allow them to give the answer. There are times when the teachers must give the answers. They must TEACH children to make decisions, never force them.

Hazards to health

by Dr. J. M. Howall,
Medical Officer of Health,
Surgeon Health Unit.

Over the past year I have tried in this column to show how an individual can anticipate the hazards to health which face him in the years immediately ahead. For example, the greatest threat to a man of 50 is heart disease; to a woman of 40, breast cancer; to a youth of 15, motor vehicle accidents.

The extent of the risk can be measured with a fair degree of accuracy using statistics of the causes of deaths at various ages. We'll use as an example the man of 50.

The chances in 100,000 of an average man of this age dying of heart disease in the next ten years are 5764, of lung cancer, 350, strokes 717, of cirrhosis 488, of suicide 345, of a motor vehicle accident 345, of pneumonia 287, of stomach cancer 287 and so on (the total risk of dying is 14,310 in 100,000).

You may be saying "there is no such person as an average man". Agreed: we all differ from the average by virtue of two personal characteristics; we may be over-weight, have raised blood pressure or diabetes, we may smoke more cigarettes, there may be a lot of heart disease in our families. Each of these factors affects our chances of dying by a calculable amount. Smoking two packs of cigarettes a day doubles the chance of dying of heart disease and triples the chance of dying of lung cancer; being 20% over-weight increases the risk from stroke by a factor of 1-1/2.

By this method the total risk for any individual can be mathematically assessed. Does it all sound too gloomy?

But in similar manner the beneficial effects of preventive measures can be added up. Stopping smoking for twelve months halves the risk of cancer; an x-ray every year reduces it by a tenth. Regular exercise lessens the chances of heart disease by one-third and controlling raised blood pressure cuts strokes by one half. So an individual program of prevention can be worked out in such a way that you can see exactly how your outlook is improving with every step you take on the health ladder. There are just two obstacles to surmount: first, to be realistic and accept the fact that these health risks exist and have to be faced; and second, to motivate within yourself positive action to counteract each specific hazard and to maintain a spirit of cheerful optimism while doing so.

In the next article I will show how a 40 year-old woman can improve her chances using this same "health hazard appraisal" technique.

Speaker's bureau on drugs formed

The committee on the misuse of drugs and narcotics has formed a speaker's bureau to carry its message to the people of Alberta.

Members of the bureau represent a wide range of professional disciplines and geographical regions.

The committee, established by the Human Resources Development Authority, suggests that where members of the bureau are to be involved, a format should be provided which will allow two or more presentations and a high degree of participation and interaction between speakers and audience.

Assistance will be provided to help groups and organizations plan such events. Expenses for bureau members will also be covered.

The bureau will be administered by the senior adolescents and young adults section of the department of youth. Requests for speakers should be made to:

Recreation in St. Albert

Registrations will continue to be taken at the Town Hall till Dec. 20 for Learn To Skate and Figure Skating classes. Following is a schedule of the classes:

Registrations will be taken at the rink Saturday, Dec. 21.

GROSVENOR

10:00-10:30 - Learn to skate (4 - 7 years)
10:30-11:00 - Learn to skate (8 yrs and over)
11:00-11:30 - Prelim. Figure Skating
11:30-12:00 - Prelim. Figure Skating
12:00-12:30 - Bronze

SALISBURY

1:00 - 1:30 - Learn to skate (4 - 7 years)
1:30 - 2:00 - Learn to skate (8 yrs and over)
2:00 - 2:30 - Prelim. Figure Skating
2:30 - 3:00 - Bronze, Silver and Gold

Registrations are still being taken for power skating which will start at Brae-side Rink on Jan. 4 at 3 p.m.

RINKS

Because of the large number of participants in the hockey and figure skating programs, it has been necessary to use two of the social rinks for classes. There will therefore be no public skating at the Grosvenor Social Rink on Saturday, Dec. 21 between 10 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. or at the Salisbury Social Rink between 1 and 3 p.m. There will be no classes at these rinks Dec. 28th. Classes will resume on Jan. 4 and continue for a further eight weeks during which time there will be no skating at the rinks mentioned above.

Although St. Albert is extremely well equipped for rinks compared with other communities (which sometimes have only two or three rinks to serve 10,000 people) the above arrangements had to be made to accommodate the unusually large number of children and young people involved in organized skating programs. It is hoped that our residents will understand, and not be inconvenienced at not being able to skate at two locations for a couple of hours each week.

"The playfields, whether owned by the town or the school districts, were particularly well-used during the summer of 1964. Over 200 boys played soccer and approximately 200 played baseball, to mention just two examples. Attached to this report is a schedule which gives some indication of the organizations making use of the facilities.

"Throughout the year the recreation division has received excellent co-operation from the two school district offices in the scheduling of the use of school facilities after school hours.

"Problems, which of necessity arise from time-to-time were solved amicably and always with the original intent of the Joint-Use Agreement in mind: "to make available to the residents of the Town of St. Albert a high standard of recreational facilities." With the support of the Town Council and the School Boards this objective is being attained to a very great extent."
